

ITCHEN ABBAS DEFIBRILLATOR

Juliet Burnand who died last year, started Lent lunches in the Itchen Valley some 30 years ago raising funds for local charities. This year the Lent lunches, which are now run by Stephanie Gretton, contributed half the funds to purchase defibrillators in Itchen Abbas and Easton.

The other half of the cost has been given through Peveril Bruce's Boomtown event.

The new Itchen Abbas defibrillator is sited in the centre of the village outside the Itchen Abbas and Avington Village Hall and was recently inspected by Geoffrey Burnand (husband) and Peveril Bruce
